State Librarian YOUTH ADMITS HE IS GUILTY

Glen Smith is Captured in Jersey City After Being Detected in Mulno Clothing Store.

HE IS RESIGNED TO HIS FATE

Police Believe Arrest Solves Number of Small Robberies Which Have Taken Place Here.

A daring daylight robber was frustrated Sunday afternoon at the William G. Mulno clothing store, when Walter Hall, a clerk at the store, walked in the front door unexpectedly on Glen Smith, who was busily engaged in selecting a line of clothing for his own use. Smith ran out the rear door through which he had forced an entrance and was captured a short time later in the cellar of the Frank Windler home in Jersey City.

Smith is held in jail and has asked for an early hearing as he admits his guilt and seems anxious to begin serving his time. The officials have not yet decided whether he will be arranged before Mayor Bebout or Judge Sparks in the circuit court. If arraigned before Mayor Bebout he would have to be bound over to the grand jury, and as Smith confesses to his guilt he may be taken directly before Judge Sparks.

The charge against Smith will likely be that of housebreaking. When found he had a suit and an overcoat laid out ready to take, but the sudden appearance of Hall on the scene prevented him from getting away with anything from the store. The entering of the Mulno store was one of the most daring ever attempted here. Smith used a brace and bit on the rear door, and by boring three holes over the lock was able to reach in with his hand and turn the night lock.

He first broke open a storm door that is outside of the door leading into the store. He was found in the store Sunday afternoon about one o'clock. Smith told Sheriff Cavitt that he first broke into the Kelley blacksmith shop where he secured the brace and bit with which to enter the Mulno store. As soon as Hall appeared at the store Smith ran going south in Main street and headed towards Jersey City.

A large crowd quickly formed, and as Hall recognized Smith the police were soon looking for him. Smith ran directly to the Windler home and went into the cellar. He came out when Chief Rosencrance called for him. He took his arrest in an unconcerned way and even made light of it to the officers. The crowd coming back from Jersey City resembled the breaking up of a Sunday ball game. "There wasn't anyone down in town," said Smith, "when I entered the store, but look at the size of the crowd."

The police believe that with the arrest of Smith several robberies will be solved. At the same time the officers believe that the petty thieving will stop. The police are of the opinion that Smith is the one who entered the Homer Havens grocery about two weeks ago and obtained two dollars from the cash register. They also hold him responsible for the two robberies at the G. P. McCarty store. Smith as good as owned up to these two when questioned by Chief Rosencrance.

Smith is the son of Edward Smith, a local wall paper hanger and has been living with his father in rooms over the office of Dr. J. G. Lewis. Some time ago a Mrs. Brown, who lives in the other half of the apartment, missed a watch and suspicion

FORMER MERCHANT DEAD

William Shubinski Expires of Paralysis at Lexington, Ky.

Word was received here Sunday of the death of William Shubinski, formerly of this city, in Lexington, Ky. Mr. Shubinski was engaged in the dry goods business here for many years and will be remembered by many people. He had been ill for several months suffering from paralysis and died in a hospital in Lexington. Following his removal from this city he engaged in business there. Mr. Shubinski married Miss Alma Gilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boone Gilson while living here. He is survived by his widow and one daughter, Miss Florence.

MARRIAGE RESULT COLLEGE ROMANCE

Mrs. Ella H. Thompson of Milroy and Edwin H. Lee, Prominent Politician, Get License Here.

EACH TWICE MARRIED BEFORE

It became known today for the first time that Edwin M. Lee, of Indianapolis, former Republican state chairman and later Progressive state chairman and Mrs. Ella H. Thompson, of Milroy, secured a license to marry here on December 30. By request the license was kept off the record until today. They were married shortly after the license was issued but the minister is not known.

It was the third marriage for both parties. Mrs. Thompson was a daughter of the late Mrs. Virginia Hill and resided in Indianapolis until she was called here to care for her mother, who was injured in a fall and later died. It is understood that Mr. Lee and Mrs. Thompson were lovers before either was married the first time and the marriage is the culmination of an old romance, which started in Moore's Hill college when they were students there together.

Mr. Lee secured a divorce from his second wife in October.

FRENCH CAPTURE GERMAN TRENCHES

Paris War Office Asserts Germans Are Constantly Sacrificing Men to Regain Position

MUCH ARTILLERY EXCHANGING

(By United Press.)

Paris, Jan. 11.—There is violent fighting along the entire line between the Lys and Oise. In a series of combats the French have taken a line of German trenches here, according to this afternoon's official announcement. From the sea to the Lys the fighting continues to be artillery exchanges for the most part.

The heavy fighting near Soissons continues the Germans constantly sacrificing men trying to regain the ground which they were forced to relinquish last week. The fighting is said to be terrific but the French war office officially denies the stories of gains at this point. Instead, it is asserted, the allied lines are being advanced into the trenches here which were formerly occupied by the Germans.

DEED NEARLY 76 YEARS OLD

A. P. Wagoner Comes into Possession of Document Executed Here January 29, 1839.

FOR LAND FOR CHURCH SITE

Used as Location of Original Ebenezer M. E. Congregation—Paper Yellow With Age.

While visiting in New Palestine yesterday his uncle, Sylvester Wagoner, City Councilman A. P. Wagoner of this city came into possession of a rare old public document which was executed in the year 1839 in this county. It was a deed for the land in Orange township which was the original site of the old Ebenezer church.

The document is unique in many ways. The terms of the deed are vastly different from those which are used in a deed of today. It was written in pen and ink and little attention was paid to capitalization. The deed was drawn up before the advent of the notary public, evidently, because a justice of the peace, William Selby by name, was witness to the transaction.

The official seal on the document, unlike the one of today, was a roughly drawn egg-shaped figure in which was written the word "Seal." The deed was executed January 29, 1839, lacking eighteen days of being seventy-six years ago, when Job Pugh was recorder of Rush county. Notation is made on the back of the document that the recorder donated his usual fee in this instance. The paper is yellow with age and is almost ready to fall into small bits.

Notation is made on the back to show that the deed was made by John Andis to the Methodist Episcopal church in Orange township. It was not recorded until March 4, 1840, more than a year after it was made. It is deed No. 920 and may be found in the Rush county records in book K, page 384. The deed reads like this:

"Whereas the members of the Methodist Episcopal church in Orange township, Rush county, in the state of Indiana, are in want of a piece of land on which to erect and build a meeting house for the use and benefit of said Methodist church, now, therefore, know ye that I, John Andis, in the county of Rush, in Orange township, and state of Indiana, in the premises for myself and my heirs forever have given and granted and do hereby grant and give unto the members of said Methodist Episcopal church the following tract of land to their exclusive benefit, use and behalf forever to contain one acre in the northwest corner of said John Andis' land in section seven in township twelve, range east, will in testimony whereof the said John Andis does hereunto set his hand and seal this 29th day of January, 1839."

It is apparent that John Andis could not write because there appears immediately following the name "John Andis" and an "x" indicating "his mark." There is the improvised seal and the signatures of William Selby and Milton L. Wagoner, who accepted the property, evidently, as trustees of the church. The signature of Mr. Wagoner reveals how the paper came into the possession of the Wagoner family because he was a relative.

The witnessing of the transacting was in the following language:

"State of Indiana, Rush county, before me, William (the last name is left out it is presumed Selby was meant because that name was ap-

LEGISLATURE IS READY FOR WORK

Presidig Officer in Senate Calls For Introduction of Bills Ahead of The House.

APPROPRIATION BILL IN

Calls For Preliminary Expenditure of $115,000, $5,000 Less Than in Session of 1913.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 11.—The legislature was ready to begin the actual work of legislation this afternoon following the appointment of standing committees in the house and senate. Lieutenant Governor O'Neill was ready to call for the introduction of bills in the senate but Speaker Bedwell was not ready for the introduction of bills in the house.

The appropriation bill prepared by the Democratic floor leader for introduction in the house this afternoon provided for an appropriation of $115,000 for legislative expenses. In 1913 $120,000 was provided in the preliminary bill. An additional sum may be appropriated any time.

The important committee chairmen appointed by Speaker Bedwell this afternoon were as follows:

Ways and means, Branaman, Judiciary B. Reeves; elections, Kemp; county and township business, Bos, corporations, Deniston; education, Douglass; labor, Waltz; manufacturing and commerce, Cunningham; fees and salaries, Osborne; federal relations, Niblack; insurance, Habermel; organization of courts, Liday; mines, Lutz; public morals, Myers; natural resources, Hepler; rights and privileges, Dragoo; roads, Thompson; health, Kausman; rivers and waterways, Deck; reformatories and institutions, Freind; military affairs, Justus; legislative apportionment, Benz; congressional apportionment, Chasser; claims, Sale; drains and dikes, Davis; railroads, Hagerty; swamp lands, Fulton; statistics and immigration, Kold; telephone and telegraph, Boyer; legislative employes and expenses, Thompson; public libraries, Lochry; enrolled bills, Hickam; engrossed bills, Emy; banks, Coons; benevolent institutions, Strange; building and loan, Kinder.

ADMITS GAIN OF ALLIES

German Statement Says They Are Unable to Advance Now.

(By United Press.)

Berlin, Jan. 11.—Admitting for the first time that the allies have gained a foothold in their trenches north of Soissons, the German war office today declared the battle at this point continues with the allies unable to make any further gains. The German troops are declared to have made gains in the Argonne region and also to have recaptured the trenches east of Petheros.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

A marriage license was issued Saturday to Fred Kelso and Jessie Krammes.

A marriage license was issued this morning to David H. Angle and Edna May Daner.

BOOKS WILL BE FUMIGATED

Library Will Close Last Half of Week Because of Epidemic.

The public library will be closed Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in order that all of the books can be fumigated. This is done because of scarlet fever epidemic. Miss Mary Sleeth, librarian, states that none of the books have been in a home where there has been scarlet fever but that each book will be fumigated as a precaution. It is requested that all books now out of the library be returned by Wednesday noon. All of the books will be taken out of the shelves and fumigated.

TEAMSTER KILLS HIS WIFE AND BABY

Web Matthews, of Muncie, Then Cuts His Own Throat Early Today and Probably Will Die

HE GOES SUDDENLY INSANE

(By United Press.)

Muncie, Ind., Jan. 11.—Web Matthews, a teamster of Whitely, a suburb, early today killed his wife and year-old babe and then cut his own throat. He is in a hospital and probably will die.

Matthews arose about daylight, built a fire in the kitchen stove and then returned to the bedroom and slashed his wife's throat with a razor. Then he cut the infant's throat and threw the baby on the floor. A seven-year-old daughter awoke when Matthews was brandishing the razor and jumped on his back winding her arms around him. Then she got away by running. It is thought that Matthews became insane because there had been no domestic trouble. He had always been subnormally brilliant.

MAN WHO GAVE GOLD AWAY SUCCUMBS

Horace C. Hilligoss, Who Went Insane in Chicago and Distributed Money Lavishly Dies.

BODY SENT TO THIS COUNTY

Horace G. Hilligoss, 58 years old, a well known former resident of this county, died Saturday at the Madison asylum. The remains were brought here Sunday evening and taken to the home of his sister, Miss Alma Hilligoss, southwest of the city, where the funeral services will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock.

Mr. Hilligoss had been in the asylum one year being sent from this city following his arrival here from Chicago where he suddenly went insane. Mr. Hilligoss disappeared from the city many years ago and nothing was heard from him until the time his mind became affected in Chicago. He was formerly in business in this city. He is survived by two sisters, Miss Alma and Mrs. Wili P. King. Mr. Hilligoss created somewhat of a sensation in Chicago by giving away money promiscuously, and he announced when he arrived here that he would perform the same feat on the court house square. He was prevented from doing so, however.

NEW ATTENDANCE MARK EXPECTED

Annual Purdue Short Course Opens at Lafayette Today With Prospects Very Bright.

PROGRAM STARTS AT ONCE

Lectures Given in Various Departments, Touching on Dairying, Live Stock and Other Topics.

(Special to the Daily Republican.)

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 11.—With prospects of setting new attendance records, the thirteenth annual Purdue university farmers short course opened here today. Hundreds of Indiana farmers, their wives and children, laid aside their duties to attend the short course.

The unusual interests already indicated in the event indicates that last year's record of more than two thousand men, women and young people enrolled will be exceeded this year. Registration headquarters today reported a tremendous rush of visitors. Not only have the farmers themselves come here to learn modern and scientific methods of corn growing, dairying, horticulture, live stock raising and soil treatment, but housewives and their daughters have come to study poultry husbandry, butter making and household economics. There are seven courses open to the farmers and their families, two exclusively for women and girls.

The rural schoolboys are here in force. They have come from many different counties, some as a reward for victories in corn growing contests and others in company with school superintendents or county agents interested in the boys or the farm. LaPorte county sends 75 boys and girls and other northern Indiana Counties are represented by 30 other young people sent by a pickle company. A store in Tipton sends nine girls and Greene county sends 15 boys and girls. There are special courses of instruction for the young people, arrangements having been made to accommodate 500 of them. At least 300 young people will be here by the middle of the week.

Features of this year's course include the annual meetings of the Indiana Sheep Breeders' Association, the Indiana Live Stock Breeders Association, the Indiana Corn Growers Association, the Indiana State Dairy Association and the Indiana Home Economics Association. In addition to these the state corn show will be held Wednesday and the winning corn will form Indiana's exhibit at the Panama Pacific exposition. Seek the Home Market First

Certain foreign markets just now look quite alluring to our manufacturers.

And some of them have cultivated that "far away" look to such an extent that they are overlooking greater possibilities at home.

Just now our home markets offer exceptional advantages.

Imports have been curtailed, widening the door to home products.

A patriotic sentiment further encourages development along this line.

This is the season when manufacturers should be planning aggressive newspaper advertising campaigns to capture the home market.

WHAT WILL RELIEVE STOMACH TROUBLE

A Hard Question—But This Retired Ohio Farmer Answers It—Mr. Matteson's Statements Are Reliable.

Upper Sandusky, Ohio.—"I suffered from nervous dyspepsia and stomach trouble so that large lumps would seem to come up in my throat, and would get so dizzy I could not stand up or even see. I tried different remedies but nothing seemed to help me until one day my druggist told me about Vinol. I tried it and soon noticed an improvement and now I am well."—IRA T. MATTESON, Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

Vinol seldom fails to strengthen and tone up the tired, overtaxed and weakened nerves of the digestive organs and remove the cause of indigestion and soon enables the sufferer to digest with ease the foods that once caused distress. Vinol also creates a healthy appetite and builds up the weakened run-down system.

We have such faith in Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, that we ask every person in this vicinity suffering from nervous dyspepsia or stomach trouble to try Vinol on our offer to return their purchase money if it fails to benefit.

Department of Agriculture Develops Farmer Receives Little More Than if he Were Laborer.

Than if he Were Laborer.

REWARD IS IN THE PRODUCE

Survey of Ten States Reveals Some Interesting Statistics About Methods of the Farm.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Extensive investigations into the profits of farming have indicated that the amount of money which the average farmer receives for his year's work is little more than that which he would be paid if he hired himself out as a farm hand to one of his neighbors. In other words, though the farmer is in business for himself, the average farmer gets little or no money reward for the intelligence and skill with which he has managed his affairs or the risk and responsibility he has assumed. But he must get something in return or no one would trouble to farm for himself. A recent study conducted by experts in the United State Department of Agriculture shows that in many cases this reward may best be found in the products with which his farm furnishes him directly. When a farm is nearly, if not quite, self-sustaining, say agricultural experts, when it supplies the family that lives upon it with most of the necessities of life, a large money income is not necessary to prosperity. A greater sum derived from a farm which yields nothing for home consumption may leave the occupants much worse off.

Under the title of Farmers' Bulletin 635, "What The Farm Contributes. Directly to the Farmer's Living," the Department of Agriculture is about to publish the results of a survey of conditions on a large number of farms in the ten States of North Carolina, Georgia, Texas, Kansas, Iowa, Wisconsin, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, and Vermont. The farms selected for study, though possibly a little more prosperous than the average, were fairly representative of their sections which it will be noted, included three corn and cotton areas; two States in the corn and wheat belt, two regions where general farming was carried on, and three different dairy districts. The average value of the chief necessities of life—food, fuel, oil, and shelter—used each year by the farm family the investigators found to be $595.08. Of these necessities, estimated in money, the portion contributed directly by the farm was $421.17, leaving $173.91 to be purchased with the cash obtained from the sale of products. In considering these figures it must be remembered that if the farmer had been compelled to pay city prices for his home grown necessities, this $421.17 would have represented much less comfort.

Of the food consumed 63 per cent. was furnished by the farm. This proportion varied greatly in the different sections but was greatest in the locality, studied in North Carolina, where the farms supplied 82.2 per cent of the food consumed while the average in the New York locality was only 50.4. In view of the present economic crisis in the South this fact is regarded as of particular significance since it demonstrates the extent to which with a proper system of agriculture Southern farms can be made self-sustaining. Concentration upon one cash crop, cotton, has proved disastrous and agricultural authorities are now trying in every way to induce the people to adopt a system which will lead to conditions similar to those now prevailing in this particular area of North Carolina.

In this connection the investigation revealed some interesting facts in regard to the four items of groceries, animal products, fruits, and vegetables in the average farm family's food bill. Of the value of the food consumed groceries constituted practically one quarter animal products more than one-half, vegetables 11.6 per cent, and fruit only 6.3. Practically all of the groceries were bought; on the other hand the quantity of fruits and vegetables used was in direct proportion to the quantity raised on the farm and where this quantity was great the grocery bill was correspondingly low. This was also found to be true of animal products, including of course not only butcher's meat, but poultry, eggs, milk cheese, etc. Where these were abundant on the farm fewer groceries were purchased. Since the grocery bill was found to be ordinarily two-thirds of the entire amount expended in cash for food, one very obvious and effective way of economizing appears to be to raise more vegetables, more fruit, more milk and eggs. In many cases, experts say, this can be done with no appreciable increase in trouble or expense.

Next to food, shelter is probably the most important necessity of life. In considering the farmer's income, however, a common error in the past has been to ignore the question of house rent. The value of the house has usually been included in the value of the land and the whole considered as capital invested on which interest must be paid before the farmer can be regarded as receiving any pay at all. This method, however, assume that the farm family is to have shelter for nothing—an assumption which the city worker with whom it is not unusual to pay out from one-third to one-quarter of his entire wages for rent alone would regard as most astonishing.

SHOW BANKS ARE IN GOOD CONDITION

Statements Published Today Reveal Combined Deposit of $1,765,000.

In Rushville Institutions.

TWO COUNTY BANKS REPORT

Statements of Rushville banks, and those of two outside the city—Manilla and Glenwood—show them all to be in a very healthy condition. The statements were called for by the secretary of the treasury, McAdoo, to show the condition of the banks at the close of business the last day of the year, 1914.

In the three national banks and two trusts companies in the city, the statements, which are published today, show a combined deposit of $1,765,000. This clearly proves the financial conditions here to be normal.

The same holds true with the two county banks which make their report today. The Manilla and Glenwood institutions have a combined deposit of $323,000.

NO CHANGE ALONG VISTULA

Russians Not Yet Trying Threatened Invasion of Hungary.

(By United Press.) Vienna, (Via Berlin and London,) Jan. 11.—The war office reports today agree that there is no general change along the Vistula river and that the Russians have not tried to push their threatened invasion of Hungary. Several unsuccessful attempts have been made by the Russians to cross the Nida river in the Carpathians. Reconnoitering parties have been encountered by the Austrians but have withdrawn whenever attacked. Operations have been halted to some extent by the heavy snows.

REMARKABLE CURE OF RHEUMATISM

"Dear Readers—For years I had suffered untold agonies with what was considered an incurable case of rheumatism. I had given every remedy I laid hands upon a fair trial and had doctor after doctor treat me, without even receiving as much as temporary relief.

At last, the new scientific prescription, Lloyd's kidney and rheumatism tablets, came to my notice. This preparation brought immediate relief and in two weeks I was absolutely cured. The cure has remained permanent, and I am very thankful.

Sufferers—Take my advice and get a few "Lloyd's Tablets" from your druggist today and be convinced of the curative qualities of this new prescription.

A Poor Appeal

If President Wilson came to Indianapolis, as some Democratic politicians pretended to foresee, to make a popular appeal to the masses, he failed miserably in many respects. He made any number of statements which will not bear the brunt of argument with the person least acquainted with this nation's history since the civil war, not the least of which was that "the Republicans have not had a new idea in thirty years."

The statement is too ridiculous to be admissible to argument. The very fact that all of the national legislation that has been enacted in the United States for thirty years, much of which has been productive of the marvelous growth of this wonderful country, has been written into the federal statutes by the Republican statesmen, the session of congress under the Wilson regime, of course, not included. So far, none of the laws written by the Wilson congresses have proved their worth. Most persons are too familiar with the national legislative achievements of the last thirty years to need them repeated here.

The president still insists that the depressed state of American business, especially in the large industrial centers, is a condition of the mind, which is relying on his old word, psychological. Although it may be a state of mind to some extent, it is more something that it is tangible. It is largely due to the country's wares into direct competition with those of other countries where conditions of labor are not so good and cost of production is much cheaper.

It is generally conceded—and the president has not denied it—that he literally threw his hat into the ring, thus becoming an active candidate for the next Democratic presidential nomination. This is in direct conflict with a plank of the Baltimore platform which nominated Wilson with the understanding that he should not be a candidate for a second term. But President Wilson has no regard for platform planks. He has already proved that in his utter disregard for the one adopted at Baltimore which declared in favor of no Panama tolls for coastwise the shipping vessels.

Apropos of the visit of the president to Indianapolis, Stuyvesant Fish of New York has addressed a letter to the New York Sun demanding that the president answer some rather pertinent questions.

For instance, Mr. Fish wants to know why the president appointed Bryan secretary of state and why he "retains that poor man when he can so easily make more money 'chaunting.'" He wants to know some other things, some of which are:

"Why, having demanded of Gen. Huerta a salute of twenty-one guns, and having sent a military expedition to enforce the demand, did he withdraw the same from Vera Cruz without having received the salute and without having in the meanwhile protected American citizens of American property in Mexico?"

"So respectable a body as the Chamber of Commerce of the city of New York, on the advice of counsel learned in the law, stated at so early a date as Aug. 12, 1914, that Great Britain has already issued its proclamation of contraband, dated Aug. 5, 1914, which follows explicitly the declaration of London except in one respect namely, that it transfers flying machines from conditional to absolute contraband. The declaration of London also provides 'that the following may not be declared contraband of war: (1.) Raw cotton. Why did Mr. Wilson wait until the latter part of October before announcing to the people of the United States that cotton was not contraband?"

"What has he to say in reply to the charge made by O. B. Colquitt, Democratic Governor of Texas, in his letter published in the New York Times of Dec. 27, 1914, that England stopped American shipments until the English spinners had bought their supply (of cotton) at 6½ cents a pound?"

"Why did he allow his supervacuously inept secretary of state to put into his recent protest to Great Britain concerning the detention of American cargoes the utterly unnecessary moral injunction to our merchants to avoid hiding copper ingots in bales of cotton, which the English have already availed of to prove that Mr. Wilson admits that our merchants have been doing that thing?"

"What has become of the reiterated references in the Democratic platform of 1912 to the 'increased cost of living'?"

"Has Mr. Wilson's tariff reduced the cost of the ultimate consumer of any one article of general consumption?"

"Have the expenses of the Federal government or the number of the hundreds of thousands of those who feed on its patronage been reduced in any respect?"

"Despite the fact that the 'ordinary receipts' of the Federal government in the year ended June 30, 1914, were greater than ever before, having not Mr. Wilson and his servile majority in Congress this year added yet another $100,000,000 a year to the burden of Federal taxation?"

PRESS COMMENT ON PRESIDENT'S SPEECH.

(Kansas City Journal.)

Mr. Wilson's plan intimation that he will be a candidate for re-election is not surprising, and to Republicans not at all displeasing. By defeating him in person next year, the popular dissatisfaction with his policies and administration will be emphasized more effectively and unmistakably than if some other Democrat were carrying the party standard. And with Mr. Wilson as the candidate the Republican majority will be more sweeping.

The country will take great pleasure in registering its judgment of the man chiefly responsible for its disturbed business conditions and hard times. The speech at Indianapolis in celebration of Jackson day was remarkable in several respects, but chiefly as a display of personal egotism and political demagoguery that ill comports with the dignity of the head of the nation. It marks the rapid descent of Woodrow Wilson from the high idealism to low politics; it emphasizes the obliterating effects of ambition and expediency when they clash with fine intentions and disinterested purpose. When we look back upon the lofty and high-minded utterances that came from him prior to his election and before the blight of narrow partisanship had warped his soul and character, the conclusion is inevitable that the presidency has injured Mr. Wilson more than it has helped him.

Rushville Druggist Pleases Customers

F. E. Wolcott, druggist, reports customers greatly pleased with the QUICK action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ika. This simple remedy drains the old fecal matter from the bowels so THOROUGH that ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE of constipation, sour or gassy stomach. It is so powerful that it is used successfully in appendicitis. Adler-ika never gripes and the INSTANT action is surprising.

ED HANCOCK BACK IN EDITORIAL WORK

Edward J. Hancock, one of the best known Republican newspaper men in Indiana today became editor and manager of the Ashtabula, Ohio, Evening Independent. Up until this morning that paper was one of the strongest Progressive papers in Ohio, but the minute Mr. Hancock took charge it became a vigorous Republican organ.

Mr. Hancock began his newspaper career as reporter on the Newcastle Courier. In 1902 he became editor of the Daily Republican, and two years later became the publisher of the Brookville American, and in 1910 he took charge of the Ashtabula, Ohio, Independent. Trouble with his eyes forced him to retire temporarily from the newspaper game, and he then became Secretary to former Vice-president C. W. Fairbanks in the conservation work that the former Indiana Senator had in charge. In 1912 he became business manager of the Muncie Press, and in 1915 and 1914 was an able assistant to George B. Lockwood, President of the Indiana Editorial Association, in the publication of the Indiana State Journal, which was an important factor in Indiana campaign of 1914. Since the appearance of the National Republican, successor to the Indiana State Journal, Mr. Hancock has acted as business manager of that publication. In announcing the change in management the Ashtabula Independent says:

"Mr. Hancock made many friends during his residence in this city who will be pleased to learn that he is again to take up his residence in Ashtabula."

LONGER BOUTS ARE NECESSARY

Twenty Round Battles Would Decide
Who is Champion Lightweight.
Present Way Unsatisfactory

MAJORITY FAVOR WHITE

Doubtful Whether Welsh Could Defend His Title Successfully in Lengthy Battle

BY HAL SHERIDAN
(Written for United Press.)

New York, Jan. 11.—Freddie Welsh, Joe Shugrue and Charlie White will have to mingle in twenty round bouts to a decision before the real king of the bunch can be picked. At least that is the consensus of opinion here, following the Shugrue-Welsh and the Shugrue-White bouts.

The Jersey city boxer and the Champion are scheduled to meet again in a tenround no-decision affair here. It probably will be a corking bout—as their first meeting was—but there isn't one chance in a hundred of a change in the lightweight championship. Shugrue would have to knock Welsh out and that, judging by his past performances, is a remote possibility.

In twenty rounds a decisive victor could be picked. It is doubtful if Welsh could successfully defend his title against either Shugrue or White over the Marathon route. Welsh has said several times that he is perfectly willing to meet either of the two in a bout to a decision. But he has been content to stay around New York, where only ten round no-decision affairs are permitted, and where he is in little likelihood of losing his title.

A majority of boxing critics here pick White to beat both Welsh and Shugrue in 20 round affairs. The Chicago boy possesses something that neither Welsh nor Shugrue has shown here—a punch. The Champion and Jersey City boy have shown great skill as boxers but neither demonstrated that he had a wallop that would put a man away.

White landed a snappy left on Shugrue at times in their last meeting in New York that jarred the Jersey boy badly. Had he not played a waiting game White, it was thought, might have scored a knock-out over Shugrue.

CATHOLICS DEFEAT FALMOUTH

The Catholics defeated the Falmouth Independents at basketball by the one-sided score of 59 to 30. The first half was fast and exciting and ended with the score tied. The team work and goal shooting of the Catholics outwitted their opponents in the last half.

Against New York Law to Play Papa to Take Kids to Movies

BY CARLTON TEN EYCK.
(Written for United Press.)

New York, Jan. 11.—“Say, mister, take me in, will yer?”

If you hear that plea from some dirty faced urchin in front of a local moving picture palace, beware! For if you fall victim to the wiles of the juvenile movie fan, License Commissioner George H. Bell, will be after you and accuse you of being a “fake papa.”

Bell has been investigating and he has discovered that hundreds of children are attending the picture shows unaccompanied by bona fide guardians or genuine parents. This practice is in violation of the law which was framed to prevent panics, the theory being that if children are accompanied the dangers are much lessened.

But the competition between the film impresarios had led to a new species of employment, the “fake fathers,” who are in the employ of the moving picture managers and get a commission for them.

The “fathers” go about the neighborhood and persuade the youngsters to attend the shows. The full amount of admission five cents is often waived if the prospective patron has even two or three cents in his pocket. Instances have been known, too, where a “club rate” has been allowed and if a half dozen children can scrape up twenty cents “father is sent for and the theater party marches off with delightful anticipations of the newest thriller.

Bell has confined his investigations to Brooklyn but he is going after the Manhattan and Bronx movie next. He says that conditions are worse in these boroughs than they are on the other side of the East River. He predicts that some of the picture houses will be driven out of business as a consequence because many of the neighborhood theaters depend upon the minors to pay expenses and make a profit.

He points out also the evil effect upon the morals of the children in their willingness to accompany strangers. He has managed to check the evil to some extent by closing the theaters for a short time when he has discovered violations of the law. Bell says that he will go further if the managers persist and the offending theaters forever.

In the meantime the youngsters are figuring out new schemes whereby they may see the Indians, the villain and the heroine with the blonde curls.

rested on young Smith. Yesterday he admitted to the police that he stole the watch and sold it to J. W. Tompkins. The story was never verified by the police.

Glen Smith is probably twenty-one years old, and returned here about a year and one-half ago after two years in the United States Navy. Last summer he was implicated in his first trouble when he forged a check on Ed Haywood, of the Weeks Fresh Meat and Provision company. At that time the amount was made good and the prosecution was not pushed in order to give him a chance. Young Smith has not been working at any steady employment for some time and has more than once aroused the suspicions of the police but they were never able to get any thing definite on him that would warrant an arrest until yesterday when Smith was caught “with the goods on.”

Smith will be remembered by many as the local boy who attempted the high dive at the Rush county fair last year, and after reaching the top of the ladder, got a case of “cold feet” and refused to make the leap.

HOME-MADE MEDICINE

Best and Cheapest for Coughs

Most persons neglect a cough or cold for the principal reason that they either don't think it serious enough to go to a doctor, or don't know what good medicine to buy at a drug store, with the result that the cough or cold becomes deep-seated through this neglect and hangs on the whole winter—which might have otherwise been speedily cured, had Schiffmann's Concentrated Expectorant been used promptly.

This new remedy is so strongly concentrated that two ounces (50 cents' worth) make a full pint (16 oz.) of excellent cough medicine, by simply mixing it at home with one pint of granulated sugar and ½ pint of water. It makes a whole family supply, as much as would ordinarily cost from $2.00 to $3.00 for the same quantity of the old, ordinary, ready-made kinds of doubtful merit. It is prepared from strictly harmless plants and is so pleasant that children like to take it and it can be given them with perfect safety as it positively contains no chloroform, opium, morphine, or other narcotics, as do most cough mixtures. No risk whatever is run in buying this remedy as drug store named below will refund money if it does not give perfect satisfaction or is not found the very best remedy you have ever used for stubborn Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough and Hoarseness. For sale here by acre state wide corn contest grew an average of 100 or more bushels to the acre will be an interesting event Wednesday. Some noted instructors have been engaged for the week's course and some celebrated speakers will be heard at the evening meetings. This year the course will last five days instead of six on account of the quarantining of the Purdue farm due to the rapidly disappearing epidemic of the foot and mouth disease among live stock there will be no live stock judging.

The morning hours today were devoted to registration work opening in all departments at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The courses include those in dairying horticulture, poultry husbandry, live stock, soils and crops and home economics. On account of the large increase in the enrollment in the last named course it has been subdivided into cooking and sewing departments.

"Dairy Opportunities in Indiana" was the subject of C. R. George's opening lecture in the Dairy section, several hundred Indiana dairymen being present. He told of the numerous advantages Indiana possesses as a dairy state, its climate with freedom from the long, cold winters of the north, its soil adapted to raising cheap food and its many acres of land in the southern part of the state not suitable for other branches of farming but admirable for the raising of dairy herds. Marketing facilities are another strong point in Indiana's favor. But dairying in Indiana is not what it ought to be, said Mr. George, because of poor producing cows, poor quality of dairy products and lack of good dairymen. Many farmers who keep cows, he said, are not dairymen but merely cow keepers. He urged his hearers to stir themselves and catch up with methods.

R. E. Caldwell presented some very valuable information concerning dairy cow feeding experiments at Purdue. As between different rations for dairy cows the use of wheat bran and growing oats in a dairy ration is recommended, although the selections shall depend largely upon its availability. In feeding dairy calves the use of skim milk produced more rapid gains than the use of milk substitutes. In maximum production the five factors necessary in feeding dairy stock are: abundance of palatable food, a balanced ration, succulent feeds moderate temperature and comfortable surroundings.

Concerning "Dairy Farm Sanitation" H. C. Mills said that proper farm sanitation is of special importance to the dairy farmer because of the fact that he is producing and handling a food product that may easily be contaminated. Absolute cleanliness in all details was strongly urged. He said it was far more profitable to conduct a sanitary dairy at extra expense than to have an unsanitary one that costs little to operate.

In the Livestock section today "Swine Breeding" was the principal subject dealt with. Prof. W. W. Smith told a large class of swine breeders how to improve their stock. He said that there was no such thing as an ideal breed of hogs and never will be. A breed is popular or unpopular according as it shows itself prolific or unprolific. He advised the selection of gilts and boars from large litters. Feeding and care are important considerations in raising large litters, heredity not being the only determining factor. Farmers should keep in their breeding herd sows that produce large litters and should fatten and market all others.

There was a variety of interesting and instructive topics for the women and girls in the first day's program of the Home Economics section. In the division devoted to the study of cooking Miss Loretta Wallace told how milk may be used in different ways in the day's menu. She emphasized the value of milk as a food and urged its use at breakfast either as a beverage by itself or with cocoa and cereals. For luncheon or supper it may be used for cream soups and sauces for left-over meats. For dinner it may be used for custards, souffles or tapioca pudding. Miss McNeill demonstrated the making of small cakes and cookies and recommended to housewives that they keep a supply on hand. She told how to make some with baking powder and others with eggs and rolled oats, were also used as material for delicious drop-cake.

A heart-to-heart talk with country mothers gave Mrs. Julia Fried Walker of Indianapolis an opportunity to point out some real dangers and some important duties. Mrs. Walker has found that country boys and girls are in need of more attention than they have been given in past. The old theory that country children are better than city children and do not need so much attention in developing health and morals is a fallacy, she believes. Parents should assist children in forming habits and ideals and not leave it to the hired hands, she said. "It is parents' business" continued Mrs. Walker, "to tell the wonderful story of life to their children." In conclusion she said that country mothers must be more than good cooks and good workers, they must be good mothers.

Regarding the use of patterns Miss May Howe told those interested in sewing how to use old patterns and make alterations to get new effects. Plain shirtwaist and skirt patterns may be made to serve many purposes, she said. She then demonstrated the use of patterns by drawings and models and showed how to make old patterns do when just the one desired cannot be found.

In the Poultry section Prof. A. G. Philips, discussing recent work of the Purdue Poultry Department, told of the results of important experimental work, these results showing the increased egg yield possible by adding skim milk or meat scraps to the ration of the farm chicken. Other results showed the following: making a pound of gain in fattening chickens at a cost of eight cents, raising pullets to maturity at a cost of 20 cents by selling off cockerels and making a net profit of 24.5 percent on investment in demonstration flock after taking out all depreciation, loss, food and labor. In teaching, 244 regular and 245 short course students have received poultry training in the past year.

In the Horticulture department today the principle topics were grape and small fruit culture, raising cucumbers and keeping bees. In regard to grapes and small fruits W. R. Palmer made the surprising statement that in the last 10 years the total small fruit acreage for the state of Indiana has decreased some 54 percent and the production decrease is even greater. Failures in small fruit growing. Variety listerally traceable to four causes, not understanding the soil, moisture and pruning requirements, picking berries too ripe, failing to grade out cull fruit and making no attempt to build up a list of permanent customers. He urged that the boys and girls of the farm be interested in small fruit growing. Variety lists of grapes and berries may be obtained free of charge from the Horticultural Department of Purdue university.

Bee keeping was highly recommended by Prof. James Troop as a profitable side line for Indiana farmers. The bee requires little care or attention but needs only a suitable place to work and will look after its own food problem. Honey material goes to waste every year on every farm in sufficient quantity to supply a half dozen colonies of bees. Nervous persons, however, should not attempt bee culture for it requires a steady head and hand. Bees are valuable in orchards as they assist in the fertilization of the blossoms. Prof. Troop told how to keep and care for bees to make them very profitable.

The growing of cucumbers for pickles is a profitable work providing it is properly done, said C. B. Sayre in the third period of the Horticulture section program. If there is a salting station in the vicinity cucumbers can be made to pay as high as from $50 to $100 an acre. The yield will run from 125 to 400 bushels to the acre under best conditions. He recommended a small acreage, one or two acres for the average farmer. Gravelly or clay loam is best for cucumbers. Harvesting requires much attention as the field must be picked over at least three times a week. Diseases and insect pests were dealt with by the speaker.

DOING THEIR DUTY

New Treatment for Bronchitis Asthma, Catarrh and Head Colds

Vick's Vap-O-Rub Croup and Pneumonia Salve Relieves by Inhalation and Absorption. No Dosing.

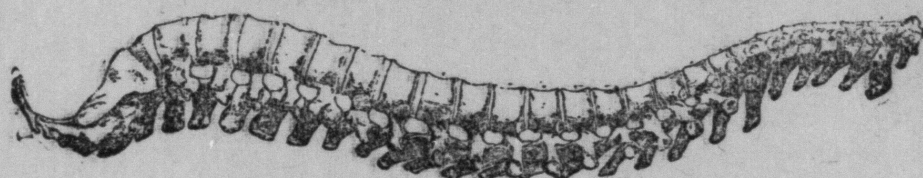

When Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Croup and Pneumonia Salve is applied externally, the body warmth releases vapors of Pine Tar, Camphor, Thymol, Menthol, and Eucalyptol. These vapors are inhaled direct to the lungs and air passages where internal medicines can not go. They loosen the phlegm, open the air passages and stimulate the mucous membrane to throw off the disease germs. For catarrh and head colds melt a little in a spoon and inhale the vapors, also apply well up the nostrils. For asthma and hay fever follow the instructions given above and also rub Vick's well over the spinal column, thus relaxing the nervous tension. Vick's is not a "cure" for these diseases, but it has at least the merit of containing no harmful habit-forming drugs, and it is sold by all druggists on thirty days' trial. If it fails to relieve in your case, the purchase price will be immediately refunded.

For sore throat, tonsillitis, deep colds, and bronchial troubles, apply hot wet towels over the chest and throat to open the pores of the skin. Then rub Vick's well in and cover with a warm flannel cloth. The next morning the phlegm is loosened, head is clear, and, in addition, the absorption of Vick's through the skin has taken out that tightness and soreness. Three sizes—from 25c. up.

VICK'S Croup and Pneumonia SALVE

Spinal Column, Where the Cause of Disease is Located

CHIROPRACTIC
(KI-RO-PRAC-TIC)

The scientific method of removing the cause of all disease by adjusting to the normal position the misplaced (subluxated) vertebrae of the spinal column. The subluxated vertebra cause pressure on the Great Trunk Nerves which emanate between them, thus shutting off the transmission of vital current from the brain to some organ or part of the body to which they lead, leaving it in a weakened condition, subject to disease, causing over 95 per cent of all sickness and suffering known to mankind. Chiropactic adjustments remove the pressure (the cause of disease), restores the vital energy and health returns. I use the hands only. I ask no questions; simply analyze the spine and tell you every place you are affected.

Appendicitis Rheumatism, Nervousness, Asthma, Neuralgia, Deafness, Loss of Voice, Insomnia, Constipation, Bed Wetting, Headaches, Paralysis, Hay Fever, Catarrh, Goiter and affections of the Eyes, Nose, Throat, Lungs, Stomach, Liver, Spleen, (Heart), Bowels, Bladder, Kidneys and reproductive organs quickly and permanently disappear under Chiropactic adjustments properly given. Spinal Curvature quickly corrected. If you are sick or suffering in any way; if you have tried many physicians, specialists and medicines to no avail, then it is your plain duty to consult a chiropractor.

CASES AGAINST OFFICERS START

Four City Officials of Kokomo go on Trial in Howard County Circuit Court

FOUR COUNTS AGAINST MAYOR

Others Accused Are His Appointees. Sale of Old Fire Engine for $100 Involved

(By United Press.) Kokomo, Ind., Jan. 11.—Four officials of this city including Mayor George W. Stidger, City Attorney Joseph C. Herron, William B. Helmick, and W. J. Webb, will be called before Judge W. C. Purdum of the Howard circuit, court today to answer charges of malfeasance in office.

The four men are now out on bond. They were arrested on warrants based on grand jury indictments returned Christmas eve.

The indictment against the mayor is in four counts. The first charges the sale by the mayor of an old fire engine for $100 to a man named Douglass. It is alleged that of this sum the mayor turned in $40 to the city treasury and appropriated the balance to his own use.

The second count charges the sale of public property without advertising and without other procedure prescribed by the law including failure to secure authority from the city council.

The third count charges failure and neglect to enforce the statutes against gambling liquor selling immoral resorts.

The fourth count is a general indictment for malfeasance in office.

Herron is charged with placing assessments against certain "back-line" property owners on a recently improved street without the knowledge and consent of the board of public works.

Helmick and Webb are charged with discriminating amongst "back-line" property owners and on a recently improved street laying assessments against some and omitting them as to others, doing this, it is charged, fraudulent and corruptly.

Helmick is president of the board of works. Helmick, Webb and Herron are Mayor Stidger's appointees.

SAME TIME IN LEGISLATURE

(By United Press.) Washington, Jan. 11.—The Mondell woman suffrage resolution proposing a constitutional amendment is scheduled for discussion and disposition Tuesday. Leaders were doubtful today whether it could be brought up. Chairman Henry of the rules committee said the rule would be called up unless the matter interfered with pending appropriation bills. Postponement seems likely.

Should there be delay in the woman suffrage resolution at Washington the resolution to come up in the Indiana house that afternoon might be adopted or rejected in time to effect that resolution. The Indiana resolution would ask the Indiana delegates to favor the amendment.

EMPLOYEES BEING ARMED

Farmers Prepare Today to Resist Order to Kill Cattle

(By United Press.) Chicago Jan. 11.—While farmers are arming employees to resist agents of the state veterinarian when they attempt to kill cattle infected with foot and mouth disease, Wallace Norton, a Geneva farmer, today planned to file suit for a temporary injunction enjoining the state veterinarian from killing cattle in the state training school for girls. It became known today that 800 infected prize cattle, valued at $2,500,000 were saved only when owners established armed detectives around their stables. Without a dose of medicine, they all recovered.

SOLOIST WITH AN ORCHESTRA SUNDAY

Mrs. Arnold F. Spencer is Heard in a Japanese Song Cycle With Indianapolis Organization.

RESPONDS TO AN ENCORE

Commenting on the appearance yesterday afternoon at the Murat theater, Indianapolis, of Mrs. Arnold Spencer, formerly Miss Ruth Tevis of this city, with the Indianapolis orchestra, which marked her first time as a soloist with an orchestra, the Indianapolis Star today prints the following.

Mrs. Arnold Spencer, the soloist of the afternoon, was heard in a Japanese song cycle "Sayonara." Mrs. Spencer made a dainty picture in Japanese costume and her voice was heard to rare advantage. She is so well known to Indianapolis audiences that her singing calls for little comment. Her personality and the novelty of her number made the song cycle unusually pleasing. For an encore she responded with the favorite "One Fine Day," from Madame Butterfly, by Puccini. She was accompanied by Mrs. S. L. Kiser.

CLARK TO GET OFFICE.

Congressman Gray has announced that he will recommend Charles E. Clark as postmaster at Knightstown to take effect at the expiration of the term of the present incumbent, W. R. Zion. There has been quite a contest on for this office and the decision of Congressman Gray ends the fight. The term of Mr. Zion will expire some time in June.

SMALL FIRE AT MANILLA.

The home of the Rev. H. S. Smith in Manilla was threatened by fire Saturday noon. The dwelling caught fire from a defective flue but quick work by the volunteer fire department and the use of chemicals saved the house. The house is owned by Nettie Willis and the damage was estimated at $100 and is fully covered by insurance.

KERN HAS NO COMMENT.

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 11.—Senator Kern while here declined to say what legislation the Indiana assembly would pass. He also declined to comment on the principle of federal interference with in local election, such as in Terre Haute. He returned to Washington Sunday night and will return to Indianapolis in February with Secretary Bryan.

BOARD TO HAVE WIDE POWERS

Establishment of Water Control Commissioners Under Proposed Bill is Planned.

WILL BE INTRODUCED SOON

Is Part of Flood Prevention Program—Would be Divided Into Several Districts.

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Jan. 11.—The establishment of water control districts, the commissioners of which would have the widest powers to control drainage, water courses, and water supply, and issue bonds and levy taxes on the benefitted property therein, is proposed in a bill by the flood prevention commission, which it will introduce soon into the present legislature.

The state water control board would be composed of the attorney general, the auditor of state, and the president of the state school of engineering. This board would have the power to incorporate districts for flood protection, approve or disapprove of the districts plan, collect information, co-operate with other agencies, federal or otherwise, order the removal of obstructions to the free flow of water in streams, approve or disapprove of the erection of bridges, fills, grades.

The water control districts which this state board could establish would have powers of eminent superior to all other corporations, public and private. They would have the power to regulate stream channels, fill wet or overflowed lands, provide for irrigation, build reservoirs, canals, levees, walls, embankments, bridges, or dams.

They may order any construction, such as bridges, removed or modified at the cost of the owner unless the change would be necessary of the construction was not there. Any greater better or more convenient use of water or lands which results from the work of the district, goes to the district, and these taking it must pay for it. The commissioners would have the authority to make leases such as of the water power created by their dams, for periods of fourteen years. They would appoint appraisers to assess benefits or damages for their improvements. Commissioners would get $5 a day and appraisers $10 a day. The commissioners might employ engineers and a secretary.

Such districts could be organized by the state board on petition of 500 freeholders of the district or representatives of half the value of property thereof, and a city in the district could sign for the property holders of the city. The commissioners of the state board for terms of three, five and seven years. They would be elected by the people of the district unless the petition was so requested. No vote or the bond issue is provided.

ROBERTS IS "BROKE."

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 9.—Mayor Donn Roberts of Terre Haute has declined to say where the money was being raised for the defense fund for the 114 indicted Terre Haute men. Roberts has admitted he is "broke." He consulted with Representative A. O. Stanley, his chief counsel, here Sunday. Stanley's fee is said to be $10,000. He is one of the leading "wet" orators of the country.

GRANTS 1,000 Pardons.

(By United Press.) Columbia, S. C., Jan. 11.—By one stroke of his pen upon the eve of his retirement Governor Cole L. Blease granted more than 1,000 full pardons to state convicts. All of these had been previously paroled, the full pardons restoring their citizenship.

Miss Minnie Hardin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Mardin, of this city, has been selected to fill a vacancy in the Hamburg, Decatur county, school.

TO HAVE TEN-CENT NIGHT

Motion Picture Show Owners Say Cost of Operation is Higher.

Because of the "war-tax-in-time-of-peace," the higher cost of extra-reel pictures and the increasing cost generally in the operation of motion picture theaters, Rushville picture show owners each will have one ten-cent night a week at which time they will show their feature pictures. In some cases in the past extra-reel pictures, which are exceptionally costly, have been shown for five cents at a heavy loss to the picture show men. The Mystic is already showing one feature a week at ten cents and the Gem will begin this practice next Tuesday evening.

BOTH SIDES GET READY FOR CLASH

Contending Armies in Poland Are Preparing for Another Battle, With Germans Reinforced

CONSTANTOPOLE STORMED

(By United Press.) Petrograd, Jan. 11.—Both sides in Poland seem to be gathering their forces for another general clash and there has been little serious fighting since Saturday, today's statement says. The Germans have been heavily reinforced and are probably preparing for an assault in force on the Russian Vistula positions.

Advice from Constantinople indicates that the bombardment of the allied fleet of the Dardanelles fort has already damaged some of the outer forts. The fear is growing that the fleet may force a passage and that the allies will capture Constantinople. If this happens grave fears have been expressed by officials that a massacre of foreigners would be difficult to prevent.

YOUTH ADMITS HE IS GUILTY

Glen Smith is Captured in Jersey City After Being Detected in Mulno Clothing Store.

HE IS RESIGNED TO HIS FATE

Police Believe Arrest Solves Number of Small Robberies Which Have Taken Place Here.

A daring daylight robber was frustrated Sunday afternoon at the William G. Mulno clothing store, when Walter Hall, a clerk at the store, walked in the front door unexpectedly on Glen Smith, who was busily engaged in selecting a line of clothing for his own use. Smith ran out the rear door through which he had forced an entrance and was captured a short time later in the cellar of the Frank Windler home in Jersey City.

Smith is held in jail and has asked for an early hearing as he admits his guilt and seems anxious to begin serving his time. The officials have not yet decided whether he will be arranged before Mayor Bebout or Judge Sparks in the circuit court. If arraigned before Mayor Bebout he would have to be bonded over to the grand jury, and as Smith confesses to his guilt he may be taken directly before Judge Sparks.

The charge against Smith will likely be that of housebreaking. When found he had a suit and an overcoat laid out ready to take, but the sudden appearance of Hall on the scene prevented him from getting away with anything from the store. The entering of the Mulno store was one of the most daring ever attempted here. Smith used a brace and bit on the rear door, and by boring three holes over the lock was able to reach in with his hand and turn the night lock.

He first broke open a storm door that is outside of the door leading into the store. He was found in the store Sunday afternoon about one o'clock. Smith told Sheriff Cavitt that he first broke into the Kelley blacksmith shop where he secured the brace and bit with which to enter the Mulno store. As soon as Hall appeared at the store Smith ran going south in Main street and headed towards Jersey City.

A large crowd quickly formed, and as Hall recognized Smith the police were soon looking for him. Smith ran directly to the Windler home and went into the cellar. He came out when Chief Rosencrance called for him. He took his arrest in an unconcerned way and even made light of it to the officers. The crowd coming back from Jersey City resembled the breaking up of a Sunday ball game. "There wasn't any one down in town," said Smith, "when I entered the store, but look at the size of the crowd."

The police believe that with the arrest of Smith several robberies will be solved. At the same time the officers believe that the petty thieving will stop. The police are of the opinion that Smith is the one who entered the Homer Havens grocery about two weeks ago and obtained two dollars from the cash register. They also hold him responsible for the two robberies at the G. P. McCarty store. Smith as good as owned up to these two when questioned by Chief Rosencrance.

Smith is the son of Edward Smith, a local wall paper hanger and has been living with his father in rooms over the office of Dr. J. G. Lewis. Some time ago a Mrs. Brown, who lives in the other half of the apartment, missed a watch and suspicion

William Shubinski Expires of Paralysis at Lexington, Ky.

Word was received here Sunday of the death of William Shubinski, formerly of this city, in Lexington, Ky. Mr. Shubinski was engaged in the dry goods business here for many years and will be remembered by many people. He had been ill for several months suffering from paralysis and died in a hospital in Lexington. Following his removal from this city he engaged in business there. Mr. Shubinski married Miss Alma Gilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boone Gilson while living here. He is survived by his widow and one daughter, Miss Florence.

MARRIAGE RESULT COLLEGE ROMANCE

Mrs. Ella H. Thompson of Milroy and Edwin H. Lee, Prominent Politician, Get License Here.

EACH TWICE MARRIED BEFORE

It became known today for the first time that Edwin M. Lee, of Indianapolis, former Republican state chairman and later Progressive state chairman and Mrs. Ella H. Thompson, of Milroy, secured a license to marry here on December 29. By request the license was kept off the record until today. They were married shortly after the license was issued but the minister is not known.

It was the third marriage for both parties. Mrs. Thompson was a daughter of the late Mrs. Virginia Hill and resided in Indianapolis until she was called here to care for her mother, who was injured in a fall and later died. It is understood that Mr. Lee and Mrs. Thompson were lovers before either was married the first time and the marriage is the culmination of an old romance, which started in Moore's Hill college when they were students there together.

Mr. Lee secured a divorce from his second wife in October.

FRENCH CAPTURE GERMAN TRENCHES

Paris War Office Asserts Germans Are Constantly Sacrificing Men to Regain Position

MUCH ARTILLERY EXCHANGING

(By United Press.)

Paris, Jan. 11.—There is violent fighting along the entire line between the Lys and Oise. In a series of combats the French have taken a line of German trenches here, according to this afternoon's official announcement. From the sea to the Lys the fighting continues to be artillery exchanges for the most part. The heavy fighting near Soissons continues the Germans constantly sacrificing men trying to regain the ground which they were forced to relinquish last week. The fighting is said to be terrific but the French war office officially denies the stories of gains at this point. Instead, it is asserted, the allied lines are being advanced into the trenches here which were formerly occupied by the Germans.

DEED NEARLY 76 YEARS OLD

A. P. Wagoner Comes Into Possession of Document Executed Here January 29, 1839.

FOR LAND FOR CHURCH SITE

Used as Location of Original Ebenezer M. E. Congregation—Paper Yellow With Age.

While visiting in New Palestine yesterday his uncle, Sylvester Wagoner, City Councilman A. P. Wagoner of this city came into possession of a rare old public document which was executed in the year 1839 in this county. It was a deed for the land in Orange township which was the original site of the old Ebenezer church.

The document is unique in many ways. The terms of the deed are vastly different from those which are used in a deed of today. It was written in pen and ink and little attention was paid to capitalization. The deed was drawn up before the advent of the notary public, evidently, because a justice of the peace, William Selby by name, was witness to the transaction.

The official seal on the document, unlike the one of today, was a roughly drawn egg-shaped figure in which was written the word "Seal." The deed was executed January 29, 1839, lacking eighteen days of being seventy-six years ago, when Job Pugh was recorder of Rush county. Notation is made on the back of the document that the recorder donated his usual fee in this instance. The paper is yellow with age and is almost ready to fall into small bits.

Notation is made on the back to show that the deed was made by John Andis to the Methodist Episcopal church in Orange township. It was not recorded until March 4, 1840, more than a year after it was made. It is deed No. 923 and may be found in the Rush county records in book K, page 384. The deed reads like this:

"Whereas the members of the Methodist Episcopal church in Orange township, Rush county, in the state of Indiana, are in want of a piece of land on which to erect and build a meeting house for the use and benefit of said Methodist church, now, therefore, know ye that I, John Andis, in the county of Rush, in Orange township, and state of Indiana, in the premises for myself and my heirs forever have given and granted and do hereby grant and give unto the members of said Methodist Episcopal church the following tract of land to their exclusive benefit, use and behalf forever to contain one acre in the northwest corner of said John Andis' land in section seven in township twelve, range east, will in testimony whereof the said John Andis does hereunto set his hand and seal this 29th day of January, 1839."

It is apparent that John Andis could not write because there appears immediately following the name "John Andis" and an "x" indicating "his mark." There is the improvised seal and the signatures of William Selby and Milton L. Wagoner, who accepted the property, evidently, as trustees of the church. The signature of Mr. Wagoner reveals how the paper came into the possession of the Wagoner family because he was a relative.

The witnessing of the transacting was in the following language:

"State of Indiana, Rush county, before me, William (the last name is left out it is presumed Selby was meant because that name was ap-

LEGISLATURE IS READY FOR WORK

Presiding Officer in Senate Calls For Introduction of Bills Ahead of The House.

APPROPRIATION BILL IN

Calls For Preliminary Expenditure of $115,000, $5,000 Less Than in Session of 1913.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 11.—The legislature was ready to begin the actual work of legislation this afternoon following the appointment of standing committees in the house and senate. Lieutenant Governor O'Neill was ready to call for the introduction of bills in the senate but Speaker Bedwell was not ready for the introduction of bills in the house.

The appropriation bill prepared by the Democratic floor leader for introduction in the house this afternoon provided for an appropriation of $115,000 for legislative expenses. In 1913 $120,000 was provided in the preliminary bill. An additional sum may be appropriated any time.

The important committee chairmen appointed by Speaker Bedwell this afternoon were as follows:

ADMITTS GAIN OF ALLIES

German Statement Says They Are Unable to Advance Now.

(By United Press.)

Berlin, Jan. 11.—Admitting for the first time that the allies have gained a foothold in their trenches north of Soissons, the German war office today declared the battle at this point continues with the allies unable to make any further gains. The German troops are declared to have made gains in the Argonne region and also to have recaptured the trenches east of Petheros.

BOOKS WILL BE FUMIGATED

Library Will Close Last Half of Week Because of Epidemic.

The public library will be closed Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in order that all of the books can be fumigated. This is done because of scarlet fever epidemic. Miss Mary Sleeth, librarian, states that none of the books have been in a home where there has been scarlet fever but that each book will be fumigated as a precaution. It is requested that all books now out of the library be returned by Wednesday noon. All of the books will be taken out of the shelves and fumigated.

TEAMSTER KILLS HIS WIFE AND BABY

Web Matthews, of Muncie, Then Cuts His Own Throat Early Today and Probably Will Die

HE GOES SUDDENLY INSANE

(By United Press.)

Muncie, Ind., Jan. 11.—Web Matthews, a teamster of Whitely, a suburb, early today killed his wife and year-old babe and then cut his own throat. He is in a hospital and probably will die.

Matthews arose about daylight, built a fire in the kitchen stove and then returned to the bedroom and slashed his wife's throat with a razor. Then he cut the infant's throat and threw the baby on the floor. A seven-year-old daughter awoke when Matthews was brandishing the razor and jumped on his back winding her arms around him. Then she got away by running. It is thought that Matthews became insane because there had been no domestic trouble. He had always been subnormally brilliant.

MAN WHO GAVE GOLD AWAY SUCCUMBS

Horace C. Hilligoss, Who Went Insane in Chicago and Distributed Money Lavishly Dies.

BODY SENT TO THIS COUNTY

Horace G. Hilligoss, 58 years old, a well known former resident of this county, died Saturday at the Madison asylum. The remains were brought here Sunday evening and taken to the home of his sister, Miss Alma Hilligoss, southwest of the city, where the funeral services will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock.

Mr. Hilligoss had been in the asylum one year being sent from this city following his arrival here from Chicago where he suddenly went insane. Mr. Hilligoss disappeared from the city many years ago and nothing was heard from him until the time his mind became affected in Chicago. He was formerly in business in this city. He is survived by two sisters, Miss Alma and Mrs. Will P. King. Mr. Hilligoss created somewhat of a sensation in Chicago by giving away money promiscuously, and he announced when he arrived here that he would perform the same feat on the court house square. He was prevented from doing so, however.

NEW ATTENDANCE MARK EXPECTED

Annual Purdue Short Course Opens at Lafayette Today With Prospects Very Bright.

PROGRAM STARTS AT ONCE

Lectures Given in Various Departments, Touching on Dairying, Live Stock and Other Topics.

(Special to the Daily Republican.)

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 11.—With prospects of setting new attendance records, the thirteenth annual Purdue university farmers short course opened here today. Hundreds of Indiana farmers, their wives and children, laid aside their duties to attend the short course.

The unusual interests already indicated in the event indicates that last year's record of more than two thousand men, women and young people enrolled will be exceeded this year. Registration headquarters today reported a tremendous rush of visitors. Not only have the farmers themselves come here to learn modern and scientific methods of corn growing, dairying, horticulture, live stock raising and soil treatment, but housewives and their daughters have come to study poultry husbandry, butter making and household economies. There are seven courses open to the farmers and their families, two exclusively for women and girls.

The rural schoolboys are here in force. They have come from many different counties, some as a reward for victories in corn growing contests and others in company with school superintendents or county agents interested in the boys or the farm. LaPorte county sends 75 boys and girls and other northern Indiana Counties are represented by 30 other young people sent by a pickle company. A store in Tipton sends nine girls and Greene county sends 15 boys and girls. There are special courses of instruction for the young people, arrangements having been made to accommodate 500 of them. At least 300 young people will be here by the middle of the week.

Features of this year's course include the annual meetings of the Indiana Sheep Breeders' Association, the Indiana Live Stock Breeders Association, the Indiana Corn Growers Association, the Indiana State Dairy Association and the Indiana Home Economics Association. In addition to these the state corn show will be held Wednesday and the winning corn will form Indiana's exhibit at the Panama Pacific exposition. Presentation of gold medals to 21 farmers who in the 5-

Seek the Home Market First

Certain foreign markets just now look quite alluring to our manufacturers.

And some of them have cultivated that "far away" look to such an extent that they are overlooking greater possibilities at home.

Just now our home markets offer exceptional advantages.

Imports have been curtailed, widening the door to home products.

A patriotic sentiment further encourages development along this line.

This is the season when manufacturers should be planning aggressive newspaper advertising campaigns to capture the home market.

WHAT WILL RELIEVE STOMACH TROUBLE

A Hard Question—But This Retired Ohio Farmer Answers It—Mr. Matteson's Statements Are Reliable.

Upper Sandusky, Ohio.—"I suffered from nervous dyspepsia and stomach trouble so that large lumps would seem to come up in my throat, and would get so dizzy I could not stand up or even see. I tried different remedies but nothing seemed to help me until one day my druggist told me about Vinol. I tried it and soon noticed an improvement and now I am well."—IRA T. MATTESON, Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

Vinol seldom fails to strengthen and tone up the tired, overtaxed and weakened nerves of the digestive organs and remove the cause of indigestion and soon enables the sufferer to digest with ease the foods that once caused distress. Vinol also creates a healthy appetite and builds up the weakened run-down system.

We have such faith in Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, that we ask every person in this vicinity suffering from nervous dyspepsia or stomach trouble to try Vinol on our offer to return their purchase money if it fails to benefit.

Department of Agriculture Develops Farmer Receives Little More Than if he Were Laborer.

REWARD IS IN THE PRODUCE

Survey of Ten States Reveals Some Interesting Statistics About Methods of the Farm.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Extensive investigations into the profits of farming have indicated that the amount of money which the average farmer receives for his year's work is little more than that which he would be paid if he hired himself out as a farm hand to one of his neighbors. In other words, though the farmer is in business for himself, the average farmer gets little or no money reward for the intelligence and skill with which he has managed his affairs or the risk and responsibility he has assumed. But he must get something in return or no one would trouble to farm for himself. A recent study conducted by experts in the United States Department of Agriculture shows that in many cases this reward may best be found in the products with which his farm furnishes him directly. When a farm is nearly, if not quite, self-sustaining, say agricultural experts, when it supplies the family that lives upon it with most of the necessities of life, a large money income is not necessary to prosperity. A greater sum derived from a farm which yields nothing for home consumption may leave the occupants much worse off.

Under the title of Farmers' Bulletin 635, "What The Farm Contributes," Directly to the Farmer's Living," the Department of Agriculture is about to publish the results of a survey of conditions on a large number of farms in the ten States of North Carolina, Georgia, Texas, Kansas, Iowa, Wisconsin, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, and Vermont. The farms selected for study, though possibly a little more prosperous than the average, were fairly representative of their sections which it will be noted, included three corn and cotton areas, two States in the corn and wheat belt, two regions where general farming was carried on, and three different dairy districts. The average value of the chief necessities of life—food, fuel, oil, and shelter—used each year by the farm family the investigators found to be $595.08. Of these necessities, estimated in money, the portion contributed directly by the farm was $421.17, leaving $173.91 to be purchased with the cash obtained from the sale of products. In considering these figures it must be remembered that if the farmer had been compelled to pay city prices for his home grown necessities, this $421.17 would have represented much less comfort.

Of the food consumed 63 per cent. was furnished by the farm. This proportion varied greatly in the different sections but was greatest in the locality studied in North Carolina, where the farms supplied 82.3 per cent. of the food consumed while the average in the New York locality was only 50.4. In view of the present economic crisis in the South this fact is regarded as of particular significance since it demonstrates the extent to which with a proper system of agriculture Southern farms can be made self-sustaining. Concentration upon one cash crop, cotton, has proved disastrous and agricultural authorities are now trying in every way to induce the people to adopt a system which will lead to conditions similar to those now prevailing in this particular area of North Carolina.

In this connection the investigation revealed some interesting facts in regard to the four items of groceries, animal products, fruits, and vegetables in the average farm family's food bill. Of the value of the food consumed groceries constituted practically one quarter animal products more than one-half, vegetables 11.6 per cent. and fruit only 6.5. Practically all of the groceries were bought; on the other hand the quantity of fruits and vegetables used was in direct proportion to the quantity raised on the farm and where this quantity was great the grocery bill was correspondingly low. This was also found to be true of animal products, including of course not only butcher's meat, but poultry, eggs, milk cheese, etc. Where these were abundant on the farm fewer groceries were purchased. Since the grocery bill was found to be ordinarily two-thirds of the entire amount expended in cash for food, one very obvious and effective way of economizing appears to be to raise more vegetables, more fruit, more milk and eggs. In many cases, experts say, this can be done with no appreciable increase in trouble or expense.

Next to food, shelter is probably the most important necessity of life. In considering the farmer's income, however, a common error in the past has been to ignore the question of house rent. The value of the house has usually been included in the value of the land and the whole considered as capital invested on which interest must be paid before the farmer can be regarded as receiving any pay at all. This method, however, assume that the farm family is to have shelter for nothing—an assumption which the city worker with whom it is not unusual to pay out from one-third to one-quarter of his entire wages for rent alone would regard as most astonishing.

SHOW BANKS ARE IN GOOD CONDITION

Statements Published Today Reveal Combined Deposit of $1,765,000. In Rushville Institutions.

TWO COUNTY BANKS REPORT

Statements of Rushville banks, and those of two outside the city—Maunula and Glenwood—show them all to be in a very healthy condition. The statements were called for by the secretary of the treasury, McAdoo, to show the condition of the banks at the close of business the last day of the year, 1914.

In the three national banks and two trusts companies in the city, the statements, which are published today, show a combined deposit of $1,765,000. This clearly proves the financial conditions here to be normal.

The same holds true with the two county banks which make their report today. The Maunula and Glenwood institutions have a combined deposit of $323,000.

NO CHANGE ALONG VISTULA

Russians Not Yet Trying Threatened Invasion of Hungary.

(By United Press.) Vienna, (Via Berlin and London), Jan. 11.—The war office reports today agree that there is no general change along the Vistula river and that the Russians have not tried to push their threatened invasion of Hungary. Several unsuccessful attempts have been made by the Russians to cross the Nida river in the Carpathians. Reconnoitering parties have been encountered by the Austrians but have withdrawn whenever attacked. Operations have been halted to some extent by the heavy snows.

REMARKABLE CURE OF RHEUMATISM

"Dear Readers—For years I had suffered untold agonies with what was considered an incurable case of rheumatism. I had given every remedy I laid hands upon a fair trial and had doctor after doctor treat me, without even receiving as much as temporary relief.

At last, the new scientific prescription, Lloyd's Kidney and Rheumatism Tablets, came to my notice. This preparation brought immediate relief and in two weeks I was absolutely cured. The cure has remained permanent, and I am very thankful.

Sufferers—Take my advice and get a few "Lloyd's Tablets" from your druggist today and be convinced of the curative qualities of this new prescription.

A Poor Appeal

If President Wilson came to Indianapolis, as some Democratic politicians pretended to foresee, to make a popular appeal to the masses, he failed miserably in many respects. He made any number of statements which will not bear the brunt of argument with the person least acquainted with this nation's history since the civil war, not the least of which was that "the Republicans have not had a new idea in thirty years."

The statement is too ridiculous to be admissible to argument. The very fact that all of the national legislation that has been enacted in the United States for thirty years, much of which has been productive of the marvelous growth of this wonderful country, has been written into the federal statutes by the Republican statesmen, the session of congress under the Wilson regime, of course, not included. So far, none of the laws written by the Wilson congresses have proved their worth. Most persons are too familiar with the national legislative achievements of the last thirty years to need them repeated here.

The president still insists that the depressed state of American business, especially in the large industrial centers, is a condition of the mind, which is relying on his old word, psychological. Although it may be a state of mind to some extent, it is more something that it is tangible. It is largely due to the country's wares into direct competition with those of other countries where conditions of labor are not so good and cost of production is much cheaper.

It is generally conceded—and the president has not denied it—that he literally threw his hat into the ring, thus becoming an active candidate for the next Democratic presidential nomination. This is in direct conflict with a plank of the Baltimore platform which nominated Wilson with the understanding that he should not be a candidate for a second term. But President Wilson has no regard for platform planks. He has already proved that in his utter disregard for the one adopted at Baltimore which declared in favor of no Panama tolls for coastwise shipping vessels.

Apologies of the visit of the president to Indianapolis, Stuyvesant Fish of New York has addressed a letter to the New York Sun demanding that the president answer some rather pertinent questions. For instance, Mr. Fish wants to know why the president appointed Bryan secretary of state and why he "retains that poor man when he can so easily make more money 'chaunting.'" He wants to know some other things, some of which are:

"Why, having demanded of Gen. Huerta a salute of twenty-one guns, and having sent a military expedition to enforce the demand, did he withdraw the same from Vera Cruz without having received the salute and without having in the meanwhile protected American citizens of American property in Mexico?"

"So respectable a body as the Chamber of Commerce of the city of New York, on the advice of counsel learned in the law, stated at so early a date as Aug. 12, 1914, that Great Britain has already issued its proclamation of contraband, dated Aug. 5, 1914, which follows explicitly the declaration of London except in one respect namely, that it transfers flying machines from conditional to absolute contraband. The declaration of London also provides that the following may not be declared contraband of war: (1.) Raw cotton. Why did Mr. Wilson wait until the latter part of October before announcing to the people of the United States that cotton was not contraband?"

"What has he to say in reply to the charge made by O. B. Colquitt, Democratic Governor of Texas, in his letter published in the New York Times of Dec. 27, 1914, that England stopped American shipments until the English spinners had bought their supply (of cotton) at 63 cents a pound?"

"Why did he allow his supervacuously inept secretary of state to put into his recent protest to Great Britain concerning the detention of American cargoes the utterly unnecessary moral injunction to our merchants to avoid hiding copper ingots in bales of cotton, which the English have already availed of to prove that Mr. Wilson admits that our merchants have been doing that thing?"

"What has become of the reiterated references in the Democratic platform of 1912 to the 'increased cost of living?'"

"Has Mr. Wilson's tariff reduced the cost of the ultimate consumer of any one article of general consumption?"

"Have the expenses of the Federal government or the number of the hundreds of thousands of those who feed on its patronage been reduced in any respect?"

"Despite the fact that the 'ordinary receipts' of the Federal government in the year ended June 30, 1914, were greater than ever before, having not Mr. Wilson and his servile majority in Congress this year added yet another $100,000,000 a year to the burden of Federal taxation?"

PRESS COMMENT ON PRESIDENT'S SPEECH.

Mr. Wilson's plan intimation that he will be a candidate for re-election is not surprising, and to Republicans not at all displeasing. By defeating him in person next year, the popular dissatisfaction with his policies and administration will be emphasized more effectively and unmistakably than if some other Democrat were carrying the party standard. And with Mr. Wilson as the candidate the Republican majority will be more sweeping.

The country will take great pleasure in registering its judgment of the man chiefly responsible for its disturbed business conditions and hard times. The speech at Indianapolis in celebration of Jackson day was remarkable in several respects, but chiefly as a display of personal egotism and political demagoguery that ill comports with the dignity of the head of the nation. It marks the rapid descent of Woodrow Wilson from the high idealism to low politics; it emphasizes the obliterating effects of ambition and expediency when they clash with fine intentions and disinterested purpose. When we look back upon the lofty and high-minded utterances that came from him prior to his election and before the blight of narrow partisanship had warped his soul and character, the conclusion is inevitable that the presidency has injured Mr. Wilson more than it has helped him.

Rushville Druggist Pleases Customers

F. E. Wolcott, druggist, reports customers greatly pleased with the QUICK action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler's-ka. This simple remedy drains the old foul matter from the bowels so THOROUGH that ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE of constipation, sour or gassy stomach. It is so powerful that it is used successfully in appendicitis. Adler's-ka never gripes and the INSTANT action is surprising.

LON SEXTON.

ED HANCOCK BACK IN EDITORIAL WORK

First Editor of The Daily Republican Resumes Charge of Ashtabula Evening Independent.

Edward J. Hancock, one of the best known Republican newspaper men in Indiana today became editor and manager of the Ashtabula, Ohio, Evening Independent. Up until this morning that paper was one of the strongest Progressive papers in Ohio, but the minute Mr. Hancock took charge it became a vigorous Republican organ.

Mr. Hancock began his newspaper career as reporter on the Newcastle Courier. In 1902 he became editor of the Daily Republican, and two years later became the publisher of the Brookville American, and in 1910 he took charge of the Ashtabula, Ohio, Independent. Trouble with his eyes forced him to retire temporarily from the newspaper game, and he then became Secretary to former Vice-president C. W. Fairbanks in the conservation work that he was in charge. In 1912 he became business manager of the Muncie Press, and in 1915 and 1914 was an able assistant to George B. Loekwood, President of the Indiana Editorial Association, in the publication of the Indiana State Journal, which was an important factor in Indiana campaign of 1914. Since the appearance of the National Republican, successor to the Indiana State Journal, Mr. Hancock has acted as business manager of that publication. In announcing the change in management the Ashtabula Independent says:

"Mr. Hancock made many friends during his residence in this city who will be pleased to learn that he is again to take up his residence in Ashtabula."

LONGER BOUTS ARE NECESSARY

Twenty Round Battles Would Decide
Who is Champion Lightweight.
Present Way Unsatisfactory

MAJORITY FAVOR WHITE

Doubtful Whether Welsh Could Defend His Title Successfully in Lengthy Battle

BY HAL SHERIDAN
(Written for United Press.)

New York, Jan. 11.—Freddie Welsh, Joe Shugrue and Charlie White will have to mangle in twenty round bouts to a decision before the real king of the bunch can be picked. At least that is the consensus of opinion here, following the Shugrue-Welsh and the Shugrue-White bouts.

The Jersey city boxer and the Champion are scheduled to meet again in a tenround no-decision affair here. It probably will be a corking bout—as their first meeting was—but there isn't one chance in a hundred of a change in the lightweight championship. Shugrue would have to knock Welsh out and that, judging by his past performances, is a remote possibility.

In twenty rounds a decisive victor could be picked. It is doubtful if Welsh could successfully defend his title against either Shugrue or White over the Marathon route. Welsh has said several times that he is perfectly willing to meet either of the two in a bout to a decision. But he has been content to stay around New York, where only ten round no-decision affairs are permitted, and where he is in little likelihood of losing his title.

A majority of boxing critics here pick White to beat both Welsh and Shugrue in 20 round affairs. The Chicago boy possesses something that neither Welsh nor Shugrue has shown here—a punch. The Champion and Jersey City boy have shown great skill as boxers but neither demonstrated that he had a wallop that would put a man away.

White landed a snappy left on Shugrue at times in their last meeting in New York that jarred the Jersey boy badly. Had he not played a waiting game White, it was thought, might have scored a knock-out over Shugrue.

CATHOLICS DEFEAT FALMOUTH

The Catholics defeated the Falmouth Independents at basketball by the one-sided score of 59 to 30. The first half was fast and exciting and ended with the score tied. The team work and goal shooting of the Catholics outwitted their opponents in the last half.

Against New York Law to Play Papa to Take Kids to Movies

BY CARLTON TEN EYCK.
(Written for United Press.)

New York, Jan. 11.—"Say, mister, take me in, will yer?"

If you hear that plea from some dirty faced urchin in front of a local moving picture palace, beware! For if you fall victim to the wiles of the juvenile movie fan, License Commissioner George H. Bell, will be after you and accuse you of being a "fake papa."

Bell has been investigating and he has discovered that hundreds of children are attending the picture shows unaccompanied by bona fide guardians or genuine parents. This practice is in violation of the law which was framed to prevent panics, the theory being that if children are accompanied the dangers are much lessened.

But the competition between the film impresarios had led to a new species of employment, the "fake fathers," who are in the employ of the moving picture managers and get a commission for them.

The "fathers" go about the neighborhood and persuade the youngsters to attend the shows. The full amount of admission five cents is often waived if the prospective patron has even two or three cents in his pocket. Instances have been known, too, where a "club rate" has been allowed and if a half dozen children can scrape up twenty cents "father is sent for and the theater party marches off with delightful anticipations of the newest thriller.

Bell has confined his investigations to Brooklyn but he going after the Manhattan and Bronx movie next. He says that conditions are worse in these boroughs than they are on the other side of the East River. He predicts that some of the picture houses will be driven out of business as a consequence because many of the neighborhood theaters depend upon the minors to pay expenses and make a profit.

He points out also the evil effect upon the morals of the children in their willingness to accompany strangers. He has managed to check the evil to some extent by closing the theaters for a short time when he has discovered violations of the law. Bell says that he will go further if the managers persist and the offending theaters forever.

In the meantime the youngsters are figuring out new schemes whereby they may see the Indians, the villain and the heroine with the blonde curls.

rested on young Smith. Yesterday he admitted to the police that he stole the watch and sold it to J. W. Tompkins. The story was never verified by the police.

Glen Smith is probably twenty-one years old, and returned here about a year and one-half ago after two years in the United States Navy. Last summer he was implicated in his first trouble when he forged a check on Ed Haywood, of the Weeks Fresh Meat and Provision company. At that time the amount was made good and the prosecution was not pushed in order to give him a chance. Young Smith has not been working at any steady employment for some time and has more than once aroused the suspicions of the police but they were never able to get any thing definite on him that would warrant an arrest until yesterday when Smith was caught "with the goods on."

Smith will be remembered by many as the local boy who attempted the high dive at the Rush county fair last year, and after reaching the top of the ladder, got a case of "cold feet" and refused to make the leap.

HOME-MADE MEDICINE

Best and Cheapest for Coughs

Most persons neglect a cough or cold for the principal reason that they either don't think it serious enough to go to a doctor, or don't know what good medicine to buy at a drug store, with the result that the cough or cold becomes deep-seated through this neglect and hangs on the whole winter—which might have otherwise been speedily cured, had Schiffmann's Concentrated Expectorant been used promptly.

This new remedy is so strongly concentrated that two ounces (50 cents worth) make a full pint (16 oz.) of excellent cough medicine, by simply mixing it at home with one pint of granulated sugar and ¼ pint of water. It makes a whole family supply, as much as would ordinarily cost from $2.00 to $3.00 for the same quantity of the old, ordinary, ready-made kinds of doubtful merit. It is prepared from strictly harmless plants and is so pleasant that children like to take it and it can be given them with perfect safety as it positively contains no chloroform, opium, morphine, or other narcotics, as do most cough mixtures. No risk whatever is run in buying this remedy as drug store named below will refund money if it does not give perfect satisfaction or if not found to be the very best remedy you have ever used for stubborn Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough and Hoarseness. NEW ATTENDANCE MARK EXPECTED acre state wide corn contest grew an average of 100 or more bushels to the acre will be an interesting event Wednesday. Some noted instructors have been engaged for the week's course and some celebrated speakers will be heard at the evening meetings. This year the course will last five days instead of six on account of the quarantining of the Purdue farm due to the rapidly disappearing epidemic of the foot and mouth disease among live stock there will be no live stock judging.

The morning hours today were devoted to registration work opening in all departments at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The courses include those in dairying horticulture, poultry husbandry, live stock, soils and crops and home economics. On account of the large increase in the enrollment in the last named course it has been subdivided into cooking and sewing departments.

"Dairy Opportunities in Indiana" was the subject of C. R. George's opening lecture in the Dairy section, several hundred Indiana dairymen being present. He told of the numerous advantages Indiana possesses as a dairy state, its climate with freedom from the long, cold winters of the north, its soil adapted to raising cheap food and its many acres of land in the southern part of the state not suitable for other branches of farming but admirable for the raising of dairy herds. Marketing facilities are another strong point in Indiana's favor. But dairying in Indiana is not what it ought to be, said Mr. George, because of poor producing cows, poor quality of dairy products and lack of good dairymen. Many farmers who keep cows, he said, are not dairymen but merely cow keepers. He urged his hearers to stir themselves and catch up with methods.

R. E. Caldwell presented some very valuable information concerning dairy cow feeding experiments at Purdue. As between different rations for dairy cows the use of wheat bran and growing oats in a dairy ration is recommended, although the selections shall depend largely upon its availability. In feeding dairy calves the use of skim milk produced more rapid gains than the use of milk substitutes. In maximum production the five factors necessary in feeding dairy stock are: abundance of palatable food, a balanced ration, succulent feeds, moderate temperature and comfortable surroundings.

Concerning "Dairy Farm Sanitation" H. C. Mills said that proper farm sanitation is of special importance to the dairy farmer because of the fact that he is producing and handling a food product that may easily be contaminated. Absolute cleanliness in all details was strongly urged. He said it was far more profitable to conduct a sanitary dairy at extra expense than to have an unsanitary one that costs little to operate.

In the Livestock section today "Swine Breeding" was the principal subject dealt with. Prof. W. W. Smith told a large class of swine breeders how to improve their stock. He said that there was no such thing as an ideal breed of hogs and never will be. A breed is popular or unpopular according as it shows itself prolific or unprolific. He advised the selection of gilts and boars from large litters. Feeding and care are important considerations in raising large litters, heredity not being the only determining factor. Farmers should keep in their breeding herd sows that produce large litters and should fatten and market all others.

There was a variety of interesting and instructive topics for the women and girls in the first day's program of the Home Economics section. In the division devoted to the study of cooking Miss Loretta Wallace told how milk may be used in different ways in the day's menu. She emphasized the value of milk as a food and urged its use at breakfast either as a beverage by itself or with cereal and cereals. For luncheon or supper it may be used for cream soups and sauces for left-over meats. For dinner it may be used for custards, souffles or tapioca pudding. Miss McNeill demonstrated the making of small cakes and cookies and recommended to housewives that they keep a supply on hand. She told how to make some with baking powder and others with eggs and rolled oats, were also used as material for delicious drop-cake.

A heart-to-heart talk with country mothers gave Mrs. Julia Fried Walker of Indianapolis an opportunity to point out some real dangers and some important duties. Mrs. Walker has found that country boys and girls are in need of more attention than they have been given in past. The old theory that country children are better than city children and do not need so much attention in developing health and morals is a fallacy, she believes. Parents should assist children in forming habits and ideals and not leave it to the hired hands, she said. "It is parents' business" continued Mrs. Walker, "to tell the wonderful story of life to their children." In conclusion she said that country mothers must be more than good cooks and good workers, they must be good mothers.

Regarding the use of patterns Miss May Howe told those interested in sewing how to use old patterns and make alterations to get new effects. Plain shirtwaist and skirt patterns may be made to serve many purposes, she said. She then demonstrated the use of patterns by drawings and models and showed how to make old patterns do when just the one desired cannot be found.

In the Poultry section Prof. A. G. Philips, discussing recent work of the Purdue Poultry Department, told of the results of important experimental work, these results showing the increased egg yield possible by adding skim milk or meat scraps to the ration of the farm chicken. Other results showed the following: making a pound of gain in fattening chickens at a cost of eight cents; raising pullets to maturity at a cost of 20 cents by selling off cockerels and making a net profit of 24.5 percent on investment in demonstration flock after taking out all depreciation, loss, food and labor. In teaching, 244 regular and 245 short course students have received poultry training in the past year.

In the Horticulture department today the principle topics were grapes and small fruit culture, raising cucumbers and keeping bees. In regard to grapes and small fruits W. R. Palmer made the surprising statement that in the last 10 years the total small fruit acreage for the state of Indiana has decreased some 54 percent and the production decrease is even greater. Failures in small fruit growing. Variety list—easily traceable to four causes, not understanding the soil, moisture and pruning requirements, picking berries too ripe, failing to grade out cull fruit and making no attempt to build up a list of permanent customers. He urged that the boys and girls of the farm be interested in small fruit growing. Variety lists of grapes and berries may be obtained free of charge from the Horticultural Department of Purdue university.

Bee keeping was highly recommended by Prof. James Troop as a profitable side line for Indiana farmers. The bee requires little care or attention but needs only a suitable place to work and will look after its own food problem. Honey material goes to waste every year on every farm in sufficient quantity to supply a half dozen colonies of bees. Nervous persons, however, should not attempt bee culture for it requires a steady head and hand. Bees are valuable in orchards as they assist in the fertilization of the blossoms. Prof. Troop told how to keep and care for bees to make them very profitable.

The growing of cucumbers for pickles is a profitable work providing it is properly done, said C. B. Sayre in the third period of the Horticulture section program. If there is a salting station in the vicinity cucumbers can be made to pay as high as $5.00 from $5.00 to $10.00 an acre. The yield will run from 125 to 400 bushels to the acre under best conditions. He recommended a small acreage, one or two acres for the average farmer. Gravelly or clay loams are best for cucumbers. Harvesting requires much attention as the field must be picked over at least three times a week. Diseases and insect pests were dealt with by the speaker.

New Treatment for Bronchitis Asthma, Catarrh and Head Colds

Vick's Vap-O-Rub Croup and Pneumonia Salve Relieves by Inhalation and Absorption. No Dosing.

When Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Croup and Pneumonia Salve is applied externally, the body warmth releases vapors of Pine Tar, Camphor, Thymol, Menthol, and Eucalyptol. These vapors are inhaled direct to the lungs and air passages where internal medicines can not go. They loosen the phlegm, open the air passages and stimulate the mucous membrane to throw off the disease germs. For catarrh and head colds melt a little in a spoon and inhale the vapors, also apply well up the nostrils. For asthma and hay fever follow the instructions given above and also rub Vick's well over the spinal column, thus relaxing the nervous tension. Vick's is not a "cure" for these diseases, but it has at least the merit of containing no harmful habit-forming drugs, and it is sold by all druggists on thirty days' trial. If it fails to relieve in your case, the purchase price will be immediately refunded.

For sore throat, tonsillitis, deep colds, and bronchial troubles, apply hot wet towels over the chest and throat to open the pores of the skin. Then rub Vick's well in and cover with a warm flannel cloth. The next morning the phlegm is loosened, head is clear, and, in addition, the absorption of Vick's through the skin has taken out that tightness and soreness. Three sizes—from 25c. up.

Spinal Column, Where the Cause of Disease is Located

CHIROPRACTIC

The scientific method of removing the cause of all disease by adjusting to the normal position the misplaced (subluxated) vertebrae of the spinal column. The subluxated vertebra cause pressure on the Great Trunk Nerves which emanate between them, thus shutting off the transmission of vital current from the brain to some organ or part of the body to which they lead, leaving it in a weakened condition, subject to disease, causing over 95 per cent of all sickness and suffering known to mankind. Chiropractic adjustments remove the pressure (the cause of disease), restores the vital energy and health returns. I use the hands only. I ask no questions; simply analyze the spine and tell you every place you are affected.

Appendicitis Rheumatism, Nervousness, Asthma, Neuralgia, Deafness, Loss of Voice, Insomnia, Constipation, Bed Wetting, Headaches, Paralysis, Hay Fever, Catarrh, Goiter and affections of the Eyes, Nose, Throat, Lungs, Stomach, Liver, Spleen, (Heart), Bowels, Bladder, Kidneys and reproductive organs quickly and permanently disappear under Chiropractic adjustments properly given. Spinal Curvature quickly corrected. If you are sick or suffering in any way; if you have tried many physicians, specialists and medicines to no avail, then it is your plain duty to consult a chiropractor.

CASES AGAINST OFFICERS START

Four City Officials of Kokomo go on Trial in Howard County Circuit Court

FOUR COUNTS AGAINST MAYOR

Others Accused Are His Appointees.

Sale of Old Fire Engine for $100 Involved

(By United Press.)
Kokomo, Ind., Jan. 11.—Four officials of this city including Mayor George W. Stidger, City Attorney Joseph C. Herron, William B. Helmick, and W. J. Webb, will be called before Judge W. C. Purdum of the Howard circuit court today to answer charges of malfeasance in office.

The four men are now out on bond. They were arrested on warrants based on grand jury indictments returned Christmas eve.

The indictment against the mayor is in four counts. The first charges the sale by the mayor of an old fire engine for $100 to a man named Douglass. It is alleged that of this sum the mayor turned in $40 to the city treasury and appropriated the balance to his own use.

The second count charges the sale of public property without advertising and without other procedure prescribed by the law including failure to secure authority from the city council.

The third count charges failure and neglect to enforce the statutes against gambling liquor selling immoral resorts.

The fourth count is a general indictment for malfeasance in office.

Herron is charged with placing assessments against certain "back-line" property owners on a recently improved street without the knowledge and consent of the board of public works.

Helmick and Webb are charged with discriminating amongst "back-line" property owners and on a recently improved street laying assessments against some and omitting them as to others, doing this, it is charged, fraudulent and corruptly.

Helmick is president of the board of works. Helmick, Webb and Herron are Mayor Stidger's appointees.

POSTPONEMENT SEEMS LIKELY

Not Probable Mondell Woman Suffrage Resolution Will Come Before House

SAME TIME IN LEGISLATURE

(By United Press.)
Washington, Jan. 11.—The Mondell woman suffrage resolution proposing a constitutional amendment is scheduled for discussion and disposition Tuesday. Leaders were doubtful today whether it could be brought up. Chairman Henry of the rules committee said the rule would be called up unless the matter interfered with pending appropriation bills. Postponement seems likely.

Should there be delay in the woman suffrage resolution at Washington the resolution to come up in the Indiana house that afternoon might be adopted or rejected in time to effect that resolution. The Indiana resolution would ask the Indiana delegates to favor the amendment.

Farmers Prepare Today to Resist Order to Kill Cattle

(By United Press.)
Chicago Jan. 11.—While farmers are arming employees to resist agents of the state veterinarian when they attempt to kill cattle infected with foot and mouth disease, Wallace Norton, a Geneva farmer, today planned to file suit for a temporary injunction enjoining the state veterinarian from killing cattle in the state training school for girls. It became known today that 800 infected prize cattle, valued at $2,500,000 were saved only when owners established armed detectives around their stables. Without a dose of medicine, they all recovered.

SOLOIST WITH AN ORCHESTRA SUNDAY

Mrs. Arnold F. Spencer is Heard in a Japanese Song Cycle With Indianapolis Organization.

RESPONDS TO AN ENCORE

Commenting on the appearance yesterday afternoon at the Murat theater, Indianapolis, of Mrs. Arnold Spencer, formerly Miss Ruth Tevis of this city, with the Indianapolis orchestra, which marked her first time as a soloist with an orchestra, the Indianapolis Star today prints the following:

Mrs. Arnold Spencer, the soloist of the afternoon, was heard in a Japanese song cycle. "Sayonara." Mrs. Spencer made a dainty picture in Japanese costume and her voice was heard to rare advantage. She is so well known to Indianapolis audiences that her singing calls for little comment. Her personality and the novelty of her number made the song cycle unusually pleasing. For an encore she responded with the favorite "One Fine Day," from Madame Butterfly, by Puccini. She was accompanied by Mrs. S. L. Kiser.

BOARD TO HAVE WIDE POWERS

Establishment of Water Control Commissioners Under Proposed Bill is Planned.

WILL BE INTRODUCED SOON

Is Part of Flood Prevention Program—Would be Divided Into Several Districts.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Jan. 11.—The establishment of water control districts, the commissioners of which would have the widest powers to control drainage, water courses, and water supply, and issue bonds and levy taxes on the benefitted property therein, is proposed in a bill by the flood prevention commission, which it will introduce soon into the present legislature.

The state water control board would be composed of the attorney general, the auditor of state, and the president of the state school of engineering. This board would have the power to incorporate districts for flood protection, approve or disapprove of the districts plan, collect information, co-operate with other agencies, federal or otherwise, order the removal of obstructions to the free flow of water in streams, approve or disapprove of the erection of bridges, fills, grades.

The water control districts which this state board could establish would have powers of eminent domain to all other corporations, public and private. They would have the power to regulate stream channels, fill wet or overflowed lands, provide for irrigation, build reservoirs, canals, levees, walls, embankments, bridges, or dams.

They may order any construction, such as bridges, removed or modified at the cost of the owner unless the change would be necessary of the construction was not there. Any greater better or more convenient use of water or lands which results from the work of the district, goes to the district, and these taking it must pay for it. The commissioners would have the authority to make leases such as of the water power created by their dams, for periods of fourteen years. They would appoint appraisers to assess benefits or damages for their improvements. Commissioners would get $5 a day and appraisers $10 a day. The commissioners might employ engineers and a secretary.

Such districts could be organized by the state board on petition of 500 freeholders of the district or representatives of half the value of property thereof, and a city in the district could sign for the property holders of the city. The commissioners of the state board for terms of three, five and seven years. They would be elected by the people of the district unless the petition was so requested. No vote or the bond issue is provided.

ROBERTS IS "BROKE."

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 9.—Mayor Donn Roberts of Terre Haute has declined to say where the money was being raised for the defense fund for the 114 indicted Terre Haute men. Roberts has admitted he is "broke." He consulted with Representative A. O. Stanley, his chief counsel, here Sunday. Stanley's fee is said to be $10,000. He is one of the leading "wet" orators of the country.

GRANTS 1,000 Pardons.

(By United Press.)
Columbia, S. C., Jan. 11.—By one stroke of his pen upon the eve of his retirement Governor Cole L. Blease granted more than 1,000 full pardons to state convicts. All of these had been previously paroled, the full pardons restoring their citizenship.

Miss Minnie Hardin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Mardin, of this city, has been selected to fill vacancy in the Hamburg, Decatur county, school.

TO HAVE TEN-CENT NIGHT

Motion Picture Show Owners Say Cost of Operation is Higher.

Because of the "war-tax-in-time-of-peace," the higher cost of extra-reel pictures and the increasing cost generally in the operation of motion picture theaters, Rushville picture show owners each will have one ten-cent night a week at which time they will show their feature pictures. In some cases in the past extra-reel pictures, which are exceptionally costly, have been shown for five cents at a heavy loss to the picture show men. The Mystic is already showing one feature a week at ten cents and the Gem will begin this practice next Tuesday evening.

BOTH SIDES GET READY FOR CLASH

Contending Armies in Poland Are Preparing for Another Battle, With Germans Reinforced

CONSTANTINOPLE STORMED

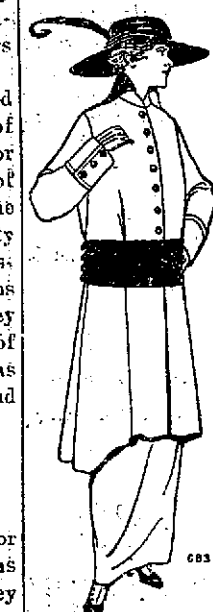

(By United Press.)

Petrograd, Jan. 11.—Both sides in Poland seem to be gathering their forces for another general clash and there has been little serious fighting since Saturday, today's statement says. The Germans have been heavily reinforced and are probably preparing for an assault in force on the Russian Vistula positions.

Advice from Constantinople indicates that the bombardment of the allied fleet of the Dardanelles fort has already damaged some of the outer forts. The fear is growing that the fleet may force a passage and that the allies will capture Constantinople. If this happens grave fears have been expressed by officials that a massacre of foreigners would be difficult to prevent.
